Great march for gaza

Knuckle-dragging loyalist Israel supporters have gathered in Scarva, County Down, to disgrace themselves by flinging sectarian abuse at the Great March for Gaza. The humanitarian march organised by the Irish Palestine Solidarity Campaign, set off from Lurgan, ten miles away, this morning. After Scarva, marchers walked a further almost twenty miles to Omearh in solidarity with the Palestinian people against Israel's genocide and occupation:

The thugs were caught on camera by the defiant marchers as they passed:

Great march for Gaza vs provocative behaviour?

The march is raising funds for Palestine Aid Ireland and Children Not Numbers. Residents of Scarva had lodged objections trying to prevent the march passing by the village. The Parades Commission had given permission for villages to mount a counter-demonstration, but only on condition that they avoid provocative behaviour toward the marchers.

Right. Donate to the march's charities here.
