Various images of Tommy Robinson sniffing with the "Adolf Sniffler" superimposed over the top

In late June, a Tommy Robinson interview has gone viral no less than three times. Initially, it attracted attention because of Robinson's brazen lies. The puff piece went viral a second time because it led to the sacking of the news host who published it. Now, it's blown up again because of Robinson's suspicious sniffing:

It's Adolf Sniffler

Tommy Robinson is Running around his brain

The man shining a light on Robinson's lies was the investigative documentarian Gadget:

Tommy Robinson was allowed to rewrite history completely unchallenged in a friendly interview.

While discussing his libel loss over the Syrian schoolboy, Tommy fired off a series of claims that simply don't stand up to scrutiny:

â?¢ Tommy says he merely suggested "there wasâ?¢" pic.twitter.com/7LkTQvewoS

Gadget also drew attention to Robinsonâ??s incessant sniffing â?? highlighting the most popular theory as to whatâ??s going on with the horrible, little manâ??s hooter:

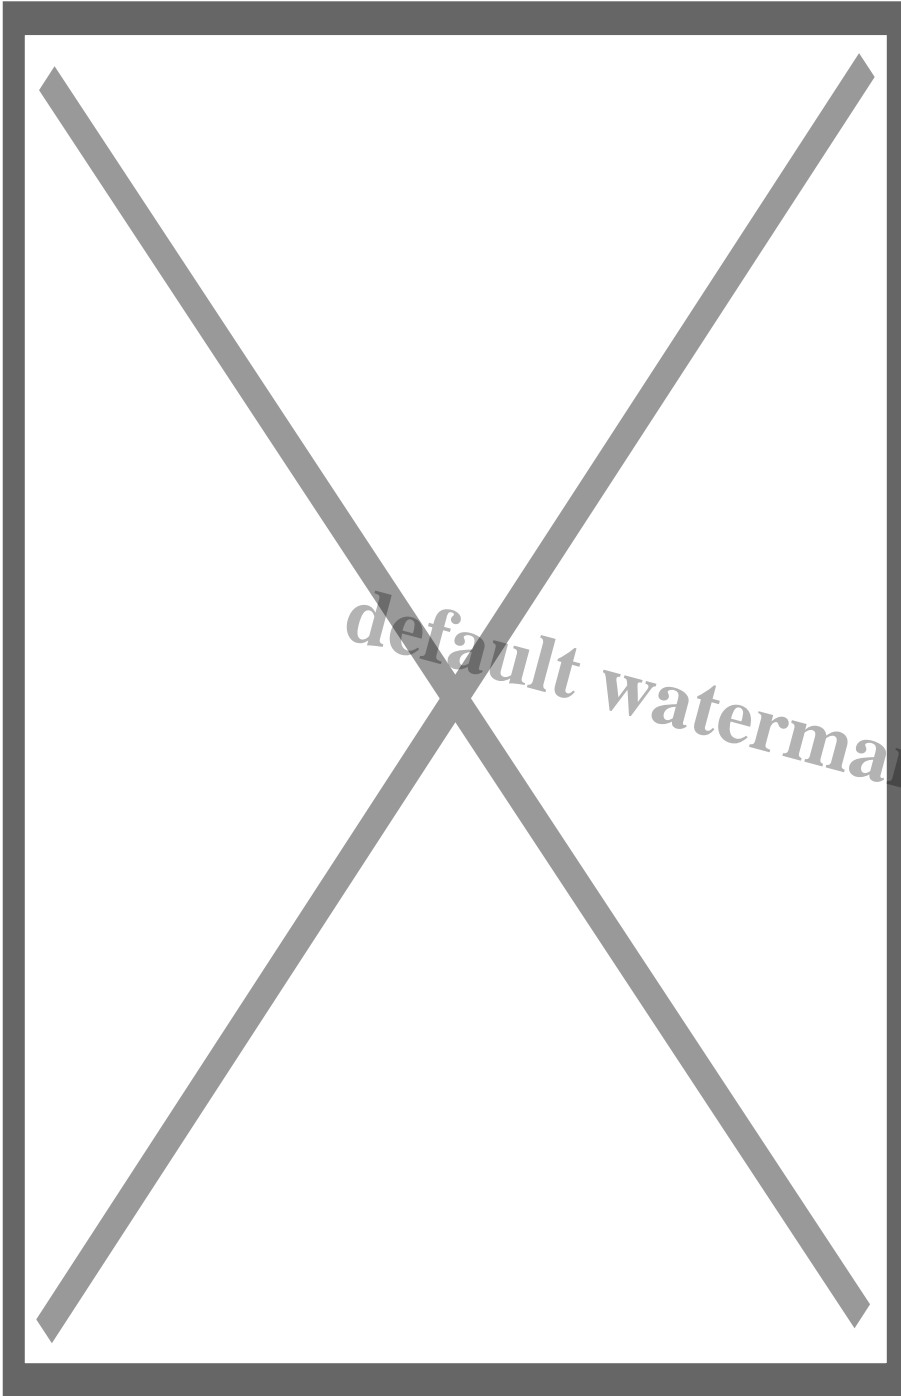

Speculation about Tommy Robinson's alleged cocaine use has increased since his interview with Karl Stefanovic.

It is a good time to remind everyone that in 2022 he told the court that he had blew Â£100,000 of his supporter's donations on "drink, alcohol, partying." <https://t.co/nRPZksi2ec>

Robinson has since claimed heâ??s suffering from a fever:

In response, Mukhtar noted

He has hay fever 24/7, all year round.

Well, itâ??s always summer somewhere, right?

Ginger Tom said:

He also bought 5 brands of medicine to prove he has hayfever if he actually had it he'd understand you don't take 5 antihistamines a day

Robinson does a lot of fundraising from his supporters These supporters should be looking at videos like the below and asking "do I really want to support this?" They probably won't, though, because if thinking was their strong suit, they wouldn't follow Robinson in the first place:

Imagine being the poor soul who crowdfunded Tommy's coke stash though.

How gullible? <https://t.co/80Gm7SzCdR>

The "Adolf Sniffler" accusations aren't just a distraction. Commenter Phil Myers made the following accusation

EVERYONE who backs him and his habit needs to stop and think what they are doing

Research Hitler, the Nazi party and the use of cocaine

I never compare anything to the Nazis , in this instance I'm making an exception

HES A COKE HEAD

You can see the results of Hitler's substance abuse in the following video:

Interviewer: Tommy, it's widely rumoured that you regularly use the "devils dandruff", would you like to take this opportunity to deny those claims?

Fick Nerrari (@FickNerrariLBC) June 27, 2026

If fascism is all it's cracked up to be, how come these c*nts need 24/7 stimulants to get through the day?

He shoots

Weâ??ll give the final word to Robinson himself:

â??No matter where Iâ??ve gone in the World â?! I get HAY FEVERâ?? 😊
<pic.twitter.com/nR2DGT0c8y>

â?? t/a Underscores Rnâ??t Us (@AndyPlumb4) June 27, 2026

If you donâ??t want to watch the video, it opens with him saying:

No matter where Iâ??ve gone in the world, I score. Iâ??ll show you tonight. As soon as I get in this pub, Iâ??ll score.

So there we have it.

No matter where he goes in the world, Robinson always gets his hayfever medicine.

Off some random guy.

In the pub.

For some reason.
