Starmer

The Starmer government's new pharmaceutical deal surrender to the Trump regime will cost well over than 200,000 British lives according to new analysis. Some A£45bn will be diverted into the profits of US companies instead of providing treatment, with cancer patients especially hard hit.

The report's findings were covered by Sky:

... a new drug supply deal between the US & UK could lead to more than 200,000 avoidable deaths. That's because billions.. of NHS funding needs to be diverted under the agreement

Starmer government forcing us to pay more

Pharma expert John Dearden explained the issues with the government's deal to the Canary in May 2026:

Starmer's regime has already imposed a slash-and-burn 10-year plan on the NHS that will cost lives and money while closing hospitals and rationing treatment. Presumptive new PM Andy Burnham has so far given no indication that he intends to change it, let alone withdraw Britain from a deal that caves in to US extortion.
