

Weiss set to run CNN after trashing CBS for Israel

Bari Weiss

Israel fanatic Bari Weiss is set to take over the running of CNN's editorial operations when Paramount Skydance's planned purchase of Warner Bros Discovery is approved as expected. Weiss was imposed on CBS's news operation in 2025 by its new, Zionist owners, despite no newsroom experience with a naked pro-Israel agenda. The move has ruined the reputation of CBS as a serious news organisation, lost it some of its best-known faces and seen them replaced by pro-Israel mouthpieces.

Weiss spreading the plague

Although the $110bn deal is not yet signed, both Paramount and CNN have said they expect it to go through in late summer to autumn of 2026. While a number of other names are said to be in line to run commercial operations, Weiss is favourite for news and editorial.

When your ideology is murderous racism, buy the media

The move is the latest in a series of acquisitions by Zionist ultras of media and social media platforms that have exposed Israel's genocide in Gaza. The main figure in these buy-outs helped ruinously in the case of TikTok by US government manoeuvres to force the sale is Oracle founder Larry Ellison. Ellison and his family also control Paramount Skydance.

The billions spent on buying information channels to prevent the public hearing about Israel's crimes are a clear indication that Israel and its lobbyists know their racist ideology has nothing to recommend it. That means that control of what people hear is their only hope of minimising the damage Israel's mass murder and endless crimes against humanity continues to do to its global standing.

Regardless, the terror state must be made a pariah. Instead, politicians bought up like news stations continue to collude in genocide, racist land-theft and war.
